

Architect Philip Cox is acclaimed for his iconic public buildings here and overseas. His other creative triumph is his garden on the far south coast of NSW, a wild bushland landscape captured in a beautiful new book, An Australian Garden ($70, Thames & Hudson).

CLIPPINGS

DESIGN AND INSPIRATION FOR GARDENS GREAT AND SMALL.

FINE FLORAL TRIBUTE

From Treloar Roses comes a stunning new purple-red rose called 'No Surrender' to honour the Descendants of the Rats of Tobruk Association. Two dollars from the sale of each plant goes to the association. Pre-order at www.treloarroses.com.au.

Botanical design books

1 Erin Benzakein is a US flower farmer and floral designer; A Year in Flowers is her guide to creating gorgeous seasonal arrangements all year round. $49, Chronicle Books.

2 New York-based Australian illustrator Adriana Picker presents a contemporary take on botanical illustration in Petal. It features drawings of more than 200 flowers. $50, Hardie Grant.

3 Leading Australian floristry educator Gregory Milner shares his wisdom in The Skill of Flower Arranging. There are arrangements for floral artists of all levels, aspiring and advanced. $79.99, Woodslane.

Greenery in the round
We love this clever Green Glass side table with built-in planter by Brisbane design company Palm Urban. Made from powder-coated aluminium and tempered glass, it's 45cm high and round, $299. Perfect indoors or out! palmurban.com.au